

Kurt Stumpff - WAFF Board Member

Born in Sulphur, Oklahoma in 1957, he moved to Madill at the age of nine and graduated from Madill Public Schools in 1976. He went on to earn a Bachelor of Business Administration in Finance from the University of Oklahoma (1976–1979).

A licensed Nursing Home Administrator (License #908) through the Oklahoma College of Continuing Education, he is also a Dale Carnegie graduate. Early in his career he owned and operated “The Skate Place” roller skating rink in Durant, Oklahoma. From 1983 to 2006 he successfully owned, operated, and administered seven healthcare facilities across southern Oklahoma.

He has been happily married to Elise Chapman since 1981. They are the proud parents of two daughters—Alexa White, an attorney, and Hannah Yocham, a speech-language pathologist—and delighted grandparents to granddaughters Luca and Lennon White.

Deeply committed to community service, he currently serves on the board of Citizens to Protect the Arbuckle-Simpson Aquifer (CPASA). His past leadership roles include officer of the Southeast Oklahoma Nursing Home Association, deacon and elder at First Presbyterian Church in Durant (where he also taught junior and senior high Sunday School for many years), vice president of the Durant Multi-Sport Complex, and vice president of the Durant Gold Ball Club.

With decades of business acumen, healthcare expertise, and dedicated community involvement, he brings valuable insight and steadfast commitment to every organization he serves.
